CIRCULAR

Dr. G. Ramachandran Library provides iThenticate plagiarism detection software to permanent faculty members and research scholars for the purpose of maintaining the quality and integrity of research and publications.

The software is provided only for the research and publication purposes of the GRI registered users. In many other Central Institutes, plagiarism checking facilities are provided only through the Library. However, Dr. G. Ramachandran Library has provided individual access to iThenticate to research scholars and faculty members for their convenience and to facilitate their research work.

However, some users are submitting documents on behalf of their friends and other known persons. It has also been observed that some scholars repeatedly submit the same article multiple times on the same day, in some cases up to 20 times. Such repeated and unauthorized usage significantly increases the consumption of the available software quota and affects the overall cost of the service. Users are therefore requested to make responsible and judicious use of this facility.

The iThenticate Software Company provides a quota i.e., specific number of document submissions for the period from 09.12.2025 to 08.12.2026. However, the number of submissions has already crossed 32% more than the stipulated quota, while two months of the subscription period are still remaining. Therefore, all faculty members and research scholars are requested to use the iThenticate plagiarism detection facility responsibly and strictly for their own research and publication purposes. Users are requested to avoid submitting documents on behalf of friends, colleagues, or other individuals and to avoid repeated submissions of the same document unnecessarily.

The Guest Faculty members may visit the Dr. G. Ramachandran Library for plagiarism checking and make use of the plagiarism checking facility available in the Library, provided the Gandhigram Rural Institute (GRI) is acknowledged properly in their work.

If the users found indulging such activities repeatedly, they may be barred from using the iThenticate software with the approval of the Authorities.
